

FRIDAY EVENING. DEC 8, 1893.

IF ATTEMPTS to amend the proposed tariff bill will not delay the passage of that bill, they should certainly be made, as well for the good of the democratic party as for that of the vast majority of party as for that of the vast majority of the people of the country irrespective of Governor Lee is very popular, voted for Mr. Martin, and that Col. Gibson, their partisan feeling, in respect of at least two important points. As the tariff tax has been removed from raw wool and sugar, the products of poor farmers, certainly that on the articles made of those materials, the products of rich manufacturers, should also be removed. For even a stronger reason, the sugar bounty should be abolished, as this is at least supposed to be a free and equal government, which allows the same opportunities to all and grants special favors to none, and, therefore, cannot logically or consistently give a bounty to the sugar cane planter, and deny it to the wheat or corn, or any other planter.

THE friends of the famous 'Dr. Mc-Glynn, the especial favorite of Mgr. Satolli, and the disfrocked priest who publicly ridiculed the Pope before applauding audiences of scoffers in New York, have, with his knowledge and consent, recommended him to the President for the position of U.S. minister to Italy, the government of which country has deprived the Pope of all his temporal power. But this, strange as it may seem, is not a whit stranger than the fact that the ban of ex-communication was removed from him without penance. The whole McGlynn case shows that the Pope has been grossly misinformed.

It is semi-officially stated that President Cleveland justifies the policy of inaction that has been adopted by U. S. Minister Willis, in Honolulu. For the President's own sake it is hoped this statement may not prove true. His themselves to inspection by the compreputation for moral courage has already suffered sadly by reason of his course in respect of the tariff, the return of the southern flags, pensions, and civil service, and if he shall now abandon his stand in the Hawaiian matter, his reputed "sand" and "backbone" will only be such things as dreams are made of.

OF COURSE an income tax would be objectionable to those who would have to pay it, as all other taxes are; but where there is one who would be sub-the consideration of the bill to admit the N. & W. R. R. into this city via ject to such a tax, there are one hundred who wouldn't be, and the political principle upon which this government west and south of Front Royal, and was founded is the greatest good to the from much of that this side of that greatest number. If the democratic place, but Senator Faulkner, chairman congressmen have the welfare of their party at heart, they will see to it that an individual income tax be incorporated in the new revenue bill.

As Long anticipated by the knowing politicians of the State, Mr. Martin will be the next U.S. Senator from Virginin; indeed, the most knowing ones have been sure that such would be the case ever since the State election, and some of them even before that, as mentioned in the GAZETTE at the time. Mr. Martin is an astute and wise politician and a bright and able lawyer, almost necessary qualifications for a successful states man, which he will doubtless prove himself to be.

THE Lehigh strike is off; but only those strikers whose places have not been filled with new hands have been or will be taken back, and they will be paid no more wages and have to work no shorter time hereafter than before. How the strike has benefited those engaged in it, they, and they only, can tell. But strikes will still go on, are in fine plight. as all men are not wise.

FROM WASHINGTON.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington. Dec. 8, 1893. The committee on banking and cur rency has reported a substitute for Mr. Brawley's bill which provides that the tax imposed upon certain issues of State bank notes be suspended. This is to afford reitef to clearing houses and other institutions which issued a temporary circulating medium during the recent financial disturbance.

The House ways and means committee is still engaged in revising and his factory in Petersburg and had to be completing its new tariff bill. It will carried home. His condition was somewhat improved last night. that it is said to-day a tax on individual incomes will be necessary. Of the eleven democratic members of the committee five are in favor of such a tax. and two or three of the others are not opposed to it. The democratic majority opposed to it. The democratic majority in the Senate is very small, and a democratic member of that body told the GAZETTE'S correspondent this morning that the bill in its reported shape could not go through that body with the sugar bounty in it, nor without it shall contain a tax on raw sugar. If, as reported, the two Senators from Alabama shall oppose free coal and iron, the bill will also fail for that reason. A tariff bill will probably pass, but from present indications pounds of sumac, none of which was it will not be the bill as reported by the House ways and means committee. Virginia congressman who called on him yesterday and advised him to make Assistant Attorney-General Holmes Conrad Judge Bond's successor, the President said Virginia had sailors and marines of Virginia incaphim to make Assistant Attorney-Gencessor, the President said Virginia had many able men who could fill the posi- acitated for the performance of manual tion creditably, but she could not con- jabor, and for the widows of such as centrate her strength upon any one of lost their lives in the late war.

them. He intimated very plainly to the congressman referred to that no Virginian would get the place. The Maryland delegation, all except Senator Gorman, is working for Mr. McIntosh, of Baltimore county, but the prevailing impression on the subject now is, as anticipated in this correspondence month ago, that Judge Simonton of South Carolina will be appointed.

While much surprise is expressed here by people unfamiliar with the condition of affairs in Virginia, at the defeat of General Fitz. Lee for the U.S. Senate, those familiar with politics in that State say it was only what they expected. One of the latter, a U. S. senator, to-day, that he received a to the caucus. This matter was quickly letter from Mr. Martin last week in disposed of by referring it to a commit which he said he would get sixty-five tee of five. Delegate Lee, in an elovotes. People from Richmond, who quent speech, presented the name of arrived here to-day, say a good deal of bad feeling has been engendered there by the way some of the demo-cratic members of the caucus voted on the nomination. They say that Mr. on the deciding ballot did not vote at all, and that Mr. Killiam of Norfolk, though instructed to support Lee, voted the same way. Everybody here who knows Mr. Martin says he will represent Virginia wisely, ably and effectively in the U. S. Senate. The House committee on public buildings and grounds is now engaged in the business of selecting a site for the new government printing office. One of the proposed sites is the square owned by General Mahone and the Windsor heirs in Alexandria. Mr. Bankhead, chairman of the committee, said this morning that no selection had as yet been made, but that so intent were the members of the committee upon settling the matter as soon as possible, that they would do nothing else until it shall be out of the way.

The House committee on the judiciary agreed this morning to report in favor of a bill for the extension of the act providing for the settlement of the captured and abandoned property war claims. It affects thousands of people throughout the South who suffered from speliation during the war between the States. It proposes to extend the benefits of the present law to those persons whose claims have been adversely determined by courts upon the ground of disloyalty, without taking into consideration the effect of the President's proclamation of pardon and amnesty. There is a fund of about eleven million dollars now in the treasury which would be effected by the extension of the act.

The State bank tax sub-committee of the House committee on banking and currency has made a report to the full ommittee recommending the repeal of the State bank tax with limitations. These limit the circulation of the bank notes to the State of issue, unless the banks of issue use notes furnished by the United States Treasury and subject troller for purposes of public informa-tion only. The circulation outstanding must not exceed 75 per cent. of the capital; they must be a first lien on the assets and subject to an assessment of one-half of one per cent. The notes may also circulate generally upon deposit of ample security.

At the meeting of the Senate committee on the District of Columbia this morning Mr. Faulkner reported from a s th-committee favorably a bill to compel the street car companies of this city t supt ly their patrons with a nicer and b tter sort of tickets than those now in ise. Senator Hunton tried to speed Georgetown, thus cutting Alexandria off from the trade of all the country time to give it their consideration. At Bennings to-day, first race, 6 1-2 f rlongs, Anrelian won; Little Ma: second; Curacoa, third. Time, 1.241-2. The talk on the subject at the Capitol to-lay is to the effect that the administration will probably change its policy in respect of Hawaii, and make ex-minister Blount the scape goat.

Among the visitors at the Capitol to-day was Editor Patton of Charlottesville, Va. He says Mr. Levy will have the support of Albemarle county in the democratic convention to nominate a candidate for Congress in that district, and that from what he can learn, he has the best chance of getting the nomination.

to the democratic party.
Senator Hay, of Madison, in presenting the claims of Mr. Thomas S. Martin said in Mr. Martin's person were embodied all of the qualities of an ideal Senator.

The nomination of Lee was seconded by Delegates Mason, of King George, and Edmondson, of Rockbridge, and that of Mr. Martin by Senator Flood, of was nominated on the sixth ballot, receiving 65 votes to 57 for Lee. The announcement of the nomina tion of Mr. Martin was received with great cheering by his friends in the hall and was taken up by the crowd on the outside. It was made unanimous on motion of Senator Mushbach. The causus then adjourned. The result was a surprise to a great many persons. Lee's chances were considered greatly strengthened by the withdrawal of Hunton for the long term. The General received all of Hunton's votes with one or two exceptions, but several persons that Lee had counted on supported Martin, among them Senator Stubbs, of Gloucester and Delegate Cabell, of Richmond The caucus will meet to-night to nomi nate State officers. Mr. Martin was at the Exchange when informed of his nomination, and his headquarters, consisting of four rooms, soon became the scene of a general jollification. Champagne flowed like water and the halls rung with the shouts of his friends. Mr. Martin was smiling and self-possessed and had a hand-shake for all comers cordial whether they had supported him in the caucus or not. When Mr. Barbour Thompson, who was one of Mr. Martin's chief lieutenants, entered the headquarters some one proposed three cheers or him, and they were given with a Mr. Thomas S. Martin is 43 years-old and is a native of Albemarle county and resides at Scottsville, on the James river, where he has a fine estate which he successfully cultivates. He was educated at the Virginia Miliry institute, and studied law at the University of Virginia. Martin is a lawyer in active practice and ranks high in the profession. He is counsel for the Richmond and Danville and Cheasapeake and Ohio Railroad Companies He has never held any State or federal office, and to the general public is not well known. He has been regarded as a rising man bypoliticians and lawyers. He made a reputation as an organizer by controlling the great legislative caucus for John W. Daniel and winning the Senatorship for him over John S. Barbour, in the face of the fact that Barbour, as chairman of the State democratic committee, had won his great victory over Mahone. Up to that time Martin was scarcely known outside of his party. He has been a member of the democratic State executive committee since that time, and has always had a fondness for politics. He is a clear speaker, though he makes no pretenons at oratory. In the late debt settlement he was frequently consulted by the Virginia commissioners. He is con sidered a very shrewd adviser. He has been for many years a member of the Virginia democratic executive committee and is credited with being a shrew politician and effective organizer. He was very highly esteemed as a party worker and advisor by the late Senator John S. Barbour. While he has never been a candidate for political office, he has been an earnest worker in the democratic ranks. In the recent contest in Virginia over the democratic nomination for the presidency he was anti-Cleveland, but as soon as he entered the race for the Senatorship took no part in the contest. He is unmarried. General Eppa Hunton is a native of Fauquier county, Va., and was born on the 23d of September, 1823. He received an academic education, studied law, and was admitted to practice at the bar in 1840. Within a year after this he was appointed common weath's attor-ney for Prince William county, and held the office till 1862. He was elected to the Virginia convention of 186 to prepare a constitution under the Confederacy, but after serving during its first session he entered the Confederate army as colonel of the Eighth Regiment of Virginia Infantry. He served in all the principal battles in the Army of Northern Virginia, and after the bat tle of Gettysburg, in which he especial ly distinguished himself, he was pro-mated to the rank of brigadier general.

On the 6th of April, 1865, he was cap

LETTER FROM RICHMOND.

Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.) RICHMOND, Va., Dec. 8, 1893. After several days of quiet on the subject the Adjutant-General fight is

While there are several other aspirants for the place there seems to be litt'e doubt of the fact that only Col. Hawes and Gen. Anderson are really in the contest. From the outlook to-day Hawes appears to have slightly the best of the fight, and his friends are more confident than ever before. It is understood that a well-known man from this city, and one who is very close to O'Ferrall, will visit Washington in a few days in the interest of the Colonel.

Col. Hawes, though at the time a mere lad, was a gallant soldier in the late war, and many of his old comin arms have written panions letters to Governor elect O'Ferrall in the interest of their comrades. Lee and Pickett Camp Confederate Veterans have endorsed him and a large number of the present soldiery are advocating his cause. Col. Howes is known to be in very near touch to Col. O'Ferrall and was one of the latters most ardent supporters during the recent canvass.

Col. Thomas H. Carter an intimate friend of O'Ferrall and a warm worker for Hawes, went to Washington a few days ago and it is believed the trip was in the interest of Col. Hawes. General Anderson's friends seem to be very confident of sucess and claim that the splendid endorsing of the General and the fact that he now holds the office will insure his appointment. This is really the best place that the governor has to dispose of and as the oficer is to be very near him in his la-bors it is only fair to suppose that O'Ferrall will appoint his personal friend, all other things being equal.

The Legislature met again at noon to-day but very little business was done. The body will not get down to real work until after the election of officers, which will probably be done in on mext few days.

On motion of Mr. Harwood a committee was appointed to canvass the vote in the recent election. Senator McIlvain and Delegate Downing were appointed and after a short recess aninced that O'Ferrall and Kent were elected Governor and Lieutenant-Governor. The vote was a follows: For Governor-O'Ferrall, 127,940; Cocke, $1,239; Miller, 6,962; scattering, 16. For Lieutenant-Governor-Kent, 128,-526; Beverly, 78,916; Tyler, 6,658. O'Ferrall's majority, 39,726; his plurality, 46,701. O'Ferrall fell behind Kent, the democratic candidate for Lieutenant-Governor, 585. The total vote cast at the election of November 7 was 216,-

Court of Appeals Yesterday.

Yesterday was opinion day in the Court of Appeals and several opinions of interest were handed down. The first of the cases disposed of was Clark vs. the Commonwealth, from the Corporation Court of Danville. Clark is the man who killed Rev. J. R. Moffett, a Baptist preacher in charge of the North Danville church. He was also editor of Anti-Liquor, a prohibition paper, and took an active part in the campaign of 1892. He and Clark had a difficulty on election day, and the next issue of Anti-Liquor contained an article in which Clark was severely handled by Mr. Moffett, Several nights thereafter Clark and Moffett met on the streets of Danville, and Moffett was shot by Clark and killed. Clark was tried for murder in the Corporation Court of Danville, was convicted of voluntary manslaughter and his punishment fixed at five years in the penitentiary. The case was appealed on technical grounds. The principal of these objections was that in summon-Rosa Rust, also from Front Royal, in ing a venire from the city of Lynchburg from which to get a jury, a list of parties to be summoned was not furnished the sergeant by the court. Judge Lewis delivered the opinion in this case, and held that while it is required by the code that such lists shall be furnished when the venire is to be obtained in the place where the trial is had, it is also provided in section 4,024 that such a list is not required when the venire is to come from another county or corporation. The court, therefore. overrules this and other objections urged by Clark's counsel and affirms the court below. Judge Lewis in delivering his opinion intimated that from the evidence before him, it appeared that the verdict was a mild one, and that he thought the jury might have been justified in rendering a ver-dict of murder in the first degree. Now that the case has been finally disposed of, Judge W. W. Moffett, trustee of the deceased, will soon issue his pamphlet, in which he will give a comsuch explanations as he may deem ne-

Mr. Dingiey raised the point of no quorum and the clerk was directed to call the roll.

The bill was reported to the House from the committee on the whole and Mr. Bland sought to secure concurrence in the committee's action in striking out the enacting clause. Meanwhile Mr. Cannon got the floor and pleaded for further consideration of the bill in committee of the whole, so that the House might have an opportunity to amend it, instead of being obliged to kill it outright. Mr. Bland replied to Mr. Cannon, attacking the main principle of the bill.

The morning hour having expired, the bankruptcy bill was taken up. Mr. Bland moved that the committee of the whole rise and report the bill back to Hayes, and was a member of the commission itself, voting steadily with the democrats on all points at issue be
